Lights on Haddo: A unique spectacle in light and sound on Friday 8 October celebrates 10 years of Haddo Arts Festival through images from Festival past and present projected onto the exterior of Haddo House, accompanied by music and song.

The light show launches this year's outstanding programme of events featuring classical ensemble The Bach Players, international pianist Joanna MacGregor, Scottish traditional musicians The Whistlebinkies, and classical songs to the pianoforte from Steven Devine and Kate Semmens. Together with Ten Feet Tall Theatre's production of "The Proposal" by Chekhov, all performances were recorded at Haddo and will be available to view online from 9 - 16 October.

Art in the Park 08 - 17 Oct

Haddo Country Park is proud to again be part of this year's Haddo Arts Festival with 'Art in the Park'. Haddo Country Park, better known for its majestic, ancient forest and woodland, offers itself as a fabulous backdrop for art. Following meandering pathways and lush green foliage, the artworks from Kimberley McPherson and Sarah Calder will become a seamless part of the visitor experience. These art installations bring gentle reflections of the fascinating history of Haddo House and the Gordon family, still very much at the heart of Haddo.

Art in the Park hopes to bring a little play to this subject using the photography of staff and those active in Haddo's current community to emulate the paintings and history of those from the past. These will be displayed as portraits on a trail in the park, complimented by original paintings in the Pheasantry by Sarah Calder. These installations are linked to the art in Haddo House for everyone to enjoy for the duration of the Festival of Arts.

Haddo House 'A Different Light'
08 - 17 Oct
(Friday to Monday only)

Come along and view Haddo House in 'a different light'. Designer James Johnson, as part of the National Trust for Scotland's Experiencing Collections project in 2019, worked with the team at Haddo House to create new and enhanced atmospheres for the tour on the theme of light & dark, heat & cold.

From "dark forgotten" and "dark utilitarian" spaces to "dramatic opulent" and "sumptuous warm with flickering gas light", join us as we tour this beautiful building and hear some of its fascinating stories and admire the art which inspired 'Art in the Park'.
